STATE TROOPS ORDERED OUT

Indiana's Militia Go to the Scene of Riotons Miners.

STRIKERS UGLY AND DEFIANT

Bloodshed is Feared, as the Miners Are Well Armed and Seem to Be Unawed and Unterrified at the Approach of the Troops-A Fight Seems Almost Inevitable.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 2.-Fifteen companies of the state militia's infantry and troop of artilleyrmen, with gatling guns, have gone to Cannellburg and Shelburn to suppress the rioting of the striking coal miners. Four Indianapolis companies of artillery and one company from Anderson, under the command of Adjutant General Robbins, left here at 7 o'clock to-night for Cannellburg.

They will be joined at Seymour by other companies. The strikers are deflant and trouble is anticipated. At Shelburn the situation is serious. The sheriff attempted, with the assistance of a strong posse, to move coal cars side tracked there, but was driven away by the strikers. The news of the Governor's ordering out the militia was received with deflance, and the strikers declared that they were prepared to whip any force the Gov-

They come from Terre Haute, Brazil, Vincennes, Washington, Princeton, and Evansville. The feeling at Terre Haute, a point in touch with the nainers troubles, is that the force ordered out is insufficient, and that bloodshed cannot be avoided. The Connellsburg strikers carried things in a high handed manner until the report of troops being ordered out reached them, when they telegraphed the Governor that they had here as regards the striking miners is very serious. There are 500 miners now at Conhave compelled conductors on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern to side-track forty carloads of coal in transit from Cheinnatt to St. Louis. They have derailed three cars, upset one, and torn up the track of the switch on each side of the coal cars.

Sheriff Leaung served injunction papers upon them, but no attention was paid to him. He then 'elegraphed the Governor for troops. The Conneillurg miners are aided by miners from this city and Montgomery.

FRASER RIVER STILL RISING

Little Prospect of It Subsiding for Some Time to Come.

THE MOUNTAINS SNOW COVERED

Continued Hot Weather Will Add Volume of Water to the Flood-Several Bodies Already Found and the Search is Being Kept Up-Hundreds of Saddened Homes.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 2.-The Fraser river is still rising. When darkness came in last night the flood during the day had gained another inch in West Minster, three inches in Mission, and four inches in Langley street. In Chilli Waciet the water gained six inches, inundating a large area of land. The work of rescue still continues, though nearly all of the imperiled settlers, and as many of their cattle and horses as remained alive, have now been carried to places of safety.

Funds are being raised and provisions collected for the homeless settlers. The hot weather continues, and, as a great drift of snow still remains in the mountains, there is every indication that the river will rise much higher. In Vale the flood is rushing through the canon at the rate of 10 miles an hour. There is little prospect of the railroads resuming traffic for several days. Telegraphic communication is also shut off most of the DENVER, Colo., June 2 .- It may not be possible to run trains between Pueblo and Florence before next Monday, owing to high water. Boulder in entirely cut off by railroad, and no one can tell when train service will be resumed. It may require several days to open the South Park road to Leadville, as the track for miles is covered with sand and mud. The Platte river is falling, and all danger from the flood in this city is past. The humber of people in and around the city who have been made homeirs, and many of whom the county will have to aid, is estimated at 500. The greatest financial damage is suffered by railroads, whose tracks along the river bank were washed away.

less Swarms in South Jersey. PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—Millions of seven teen-year locusts, also known as "Pharoah" ocusts, all with the ominous "W" darkly and distinctly outlined on their gauzy wings, are making themselves heard in all south Jersey and the truckers and farmers are greatly nlarmed lest the countless swarms of insects should leave the oak, the pine, and the chest-nut trees of the timber land for a new home on apple, pear, and peach trees. The locust hordes have taken a stand near the city of Blackwood, a little town of 500 the city of Backwood, a little town of 500 inhabitants in the extreme corner of Camden county, and cloven miles out from Camden town. It has been just eight days since the woods first resounded with their songs, and now millions are hovering over, flying through, and feeding on the woods. Every bough almost is weighed down by the locusts. The air is full of them, and they are under foot. Thus far they have done but little damage, as they are not yet large enough to be destructive.

AWFUL FATE OF A FAMILY

Carl Seeger and His Wife Agree to Die and Take Their Children With Them-Four of Them Poisoned and Strangled, Then He Kills His Wife and Hangs Himself.

Berglin, June 2.-Much comment was caused to-day when the police made public the facts in a case of murder and suicide through which six persons lost their lives. Carl Seeger, a master painter, who at one time was well-to-do, was unable to collect money due him for work done on some buildings and became despondent.

Frau Seeger was also greatly cast down by her husband's financial embarrassments, and judging from the evidence in the hands of the police the couple determined to kill their four children and then commit suicide. The ages of the children were 19,13, 10, and 7 years, Procuring a quantity of evanide of potassium the parents put some in the food of the older children. It appears that the eldest son made a desperate struggie before death relieved him of his agony. The other two children, one of whom was a girl, were for some unexplainable reason hanged by their parents.

After killing all the children it is supposed that Seeger gave some of the poison to his wife, and that immediately after she had swallowed it he placed a rope about her neck and strangled her. Then Seeger made preparations for killing himself.

Taking the rope with which he had strangled his wife he placed the end with the noose in it around his neck. Then he fastened the other end to a door knob, after which, with the aid of a chair, he passed the middle of the rope over the top of the door. When he had done this he kicked the chair from under his feet and slowly strangled to death.

S. third at 6 to 1. Kildeer next at 15, then Service at 20, Chiswick at 30, and Dolly McCone at 50. At the call to the post the seven who were to contend for the stake paraded down the track past the grand stand to the start, receiving a warm greeting.

They were not long in getting away, Chiswick showing in front, Service second, Kildeer third, with Ray S. Ida Pickwick, Dolly McCone, and Yo Tambien in the rear as named. At the quarter, run in 0.24%, Service had moved to first, with Kildeer and Ray S. following, Yo Tambien reaching fourth place and Ida Pickwick falling back a point. At the half Kildeer was in front, Service second, the half Kildeer was in front, Service second, Yo Tambien third. To the next quarter they raised, Yo Tambien coming up to the front, and from that to the finish the Kendall stables remained constantly in front. Around the track they thundered in a vain endeavor to race the chestnut out, Overton working Ray S, for all he was worth, while R. Williams on Ida Pickwick, try as he would, could get little beyond the tall end.

Up the stretch they came, pounding faster and faster, Ray S, working up to Yo Tambien's flank, shoulder and then to her neck, but no farther, for Jordan was riding to win, and win he did in a rattling finish by a head, the half Kildeer was in front, Service second, farther, for Jordan was riding to win, and win he did in a rattling fluish by a heal, carrying off the handsome floral saddle prepared for the winning boy. Bay S. was second, Kildeer third, and Chiswick got fourth money. Ida Pickwick finished absolutely last. The time by quarters was 0:24½, 0:49½, 1:15½, 1:42½, and 2:98.

Of theother events four were won by favorites, one by a second choice and one by an outsider. In the steeplechase Repeater finished in front, but having failed to negotiate one of the jumps was disqualified.

THE METROPOLITAN HANDICAP.

Ramapo Was the Favorite and He Won the Stakes by Two Lengths. New York, June 2.-All sorts of weather was the order to-day, when 20,000 people journeyed to Morris Park to watch the running of the Metropolitan handicap, the second great event of the year. This time, however, the lavorite won, and the many who had backed Ramapo saw Fred Taral carried off in the floral jockey's chair, and cheered him as heartily as they did a couple of weeks ago when, on Dr. Rice, he won the Brooklyn handicap. The Metropolitan was started in good time in spite of the enormous fields which preceeded it, and after maneuvering for a while the contestants got away to a fair start with Dr. Rice, Kinglet, Ramapo, Don Alonzo and Henry of Navarre in the lead. Sport had Henry of Navarre in the lead, sport had acted well up to the point, and then sulked a bit and was soon trailing behind his field. Herard was in a bad place, too. When the quarter was reached Kinglet was leading by a length, with Ramapo, under a heavy pull, second, two lengths in front of Herald, who had moved up and was going easily. The big hill was before them, and in the next quarter of a mile the weight was beginning to teil on some of them, although the only ones to change places were Don Alonzo and Henry to change places were Don Alonzo and Henry of Navarre.

At the three-quarter mark Kinglet had dropped out of the contest, and was in sixth place, while llamapo assumed the lead under a gentle pull, two lengths in front of Henry of Navarre, who had come rushing to the a gentle pull, two lengths in front of Henry of Navarre, who had come rushing to the front, and was two lengths in front of Dr. Rice, Don Alozzo half a length away, and Herald in fifth place. Into the stretch they came at a fine rate of speed for the heavy track. Ramapo still held the lead, and Tarai was sending him along as fast as he could, while Roche and Bassellaw were coming through like the wind and rapidly cutting all the others down. There was no danger for the leader, however, for the further he went the better he seemed to run, and he finally won by a good two lengths. Roche gained steadily on Henry of Navarre, and just before the finish was reached hended him and took second place by half a length, with Bassetiaw two lengths away in fourth place.

Dr. Rice was away back in the ruck, not being able to carry the weight allotted to him in spite of the fact that Garrison rode. Sport was not in the humor for running, and the others were not in the race at all after the choice.

At the fall of the flag Gutta Percha jumped at once into the lead, and try as hard as he could Tarid could not make the big son of Lisbon and Patrimony get within striking distance of the good little filly, for she won by two lengths in fast time. Prince of Monaco declined the issue, being scratched early in the day.

aco declined the issue, being scratched early in the day.

In the opening race fifteen 'maiden jockeys plioted fifteen maiden horses down the toboggan silde, and one of them, Aleppo, went the distance twice, for he ran away and the midget on his back could not stop him. Poohino was the favorite in the race, and won all the way in the most comfortable fashion. Memento colt came very fast at the end, getting the second place, while Durch Skater best Despot by a head for the third place.

All four finished heads apart with the others

All four finished heads apart with the others nowhere.

In the second race for two-year-olds, with selling weights, the favorite, Goad, could do no better than third, while Utica was second, and the winner turned up in the weil-backed third choice, Romping Girl. The two stakes followed, and then came a six-furioug dash for three-year-olds, in which Wernberg got off well and ran at the head all the way through. He was backed to win by the knowing ones. Discount was the favorite, but could do no better than second, while St. Maxim was third.

In the last race the Ironmaster was a wild horse, and won with ease from the lightweight, Shadow. Summaries:

ASKED FOR OPEN SESSIONS

Senator Hill's Resolution as to the Investigating Committee Discussed

NO VOTE WAS TAKEN, HOWEVER

Senator Grav Champions the Right of the Investigators to Decide on Their Own Course-Lodge Says the Matter Will Be Pushed to the Bottom.

Senator Hill brought up his resolution that the sessions of the Senate investigating committee be public yesterday, and thereby brought on a debate which insted several hours. He urged that on general grounds the debates ought to be open, and cited the Credit Mobilier investigation as an instance. He thought the Senate would subject itself to just criticism if they refused to allow open sessions. He thought that the fact that this was the first time the Senate had exercised supervision over its committee was no valid reason for refusing to do so now.

Senator Gray said the committee was indifferent to the action of the Senate in the premises. He thought, and his associates with him, that they were pursuing the wiser

They were to explore the sources of evidence, to follow clews, and do everything necessary to ascertain the truth. He need not say to the Senate and to the intelligent public that the committee was not charged to sit and hear evidence. If the committee sat with folded arms and asked all to come and testify they would be derelict to their duty and it would be a complete evasion of the obligations committed to these.

and it would be a complete evasion of the obligations committed to them.

Mr. Gray then, with some temper, reverted to the remarks made by Mr. Hill on Tuesday, eriticising the course of the committee. Mr. Hill, he said, on that occasion had called on the committee to stop investigating the newspaper men and go to investigating the truth.

that had been arranged by the Radicals as a demonstration against the House of Lords.

The Irish residents of Glasgow were out in strong force among the paraders. Two donkeys formed an amusing feature of the procession. These animals with coronets on their heads were intended to be symbolical of the institution against which the demonstration was directed.

A public meeting was held subsequent to the parade at which resolutions were adopted demanding the abolition of the House of Lords.

Mr. Lodge declared that the committee proposed to probe the charges to the bottom, and called every person who could throw the slightest light upon them.

Mr. Hill was not satisfied with the defense made of secret sessions.

He had listened, he said, for one sound reason why the investigation should not be public. Both Mr. Gray and Mr. Lodge, he said, had begged the question by seeking to guard their position with the old argument of courtesy to a Senate committee.
